FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MARIN-SONOMA NARROWS PROJECT Carpool Lanes and Redwood Landfill Interchange Project

WHAT: Ground-Breaking Ceremony

WHEN: Friday, April 12, 2013 at 1 p.m.

WHERE: Olompali State Park, north of Novato.

WHO: Dianne Steinhauser, Master of Ceremonies,
Executive Director, Transportation Authority of Marin (TAM)
Marc Levine, State Assembly, District 10
Dan McElhinney, Chief Deputy Director, District 4 – Bay Area, Caltrans
Jake Mackenzie, Commissioner, Metropolitan Transportation Commission and Director, Sonoma Transportation Authority
Alice Fredericks, Chair, Transportation Authority of Marin (TAM)
Judy Arnold, Chair, Marin County Board of Supervisors, District 5 and Vice Chair, TAM
Eric Lucan, Mayor Pro Tem, City of Novato and Commissioner, TAM
Cynthia Murray, President and CEO, North Bay Leadership Council

WHY: Construction activities include reconstructing the Redwood Landfill Interchange, adding 1.5 miles of carpool lane to northbound U.S. 101 and .5 mile of carpool lane to southbound U.S. 101. Reconstructing the Redwood Interchange will eliminate driveways and other access points, and thereby improving safety. VISUALS: Speakers have ceremonial shovels for ground-breaking photos.
